

MORNING APPEAL

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1879

A CHINAMAN'S FANCY.

AN ORIENTAL CONVICT'S INFATUATION WITH THE STATE PRISON.

It is a well established fact that there are some criminals who, when they have served out one term of imprisonment in our State reformatory, immediately rush into the commission of some other crime which re-consigns them to the care of the Commonwealth in which the deed is perpetrated. Their motive for so doing is to get back to their old quarters which are more congenial to them than any other, or in plain words, they are so much attached to the interior of the four walls of a State Prison, that they would rather be there than elsewhere. This statement may appear ridiculous, yet it is an incontrovertible one. An analogous case has come under the observation of the State Prison officers and police authorities here, as related by the District Attorney a few days ago. Some time since the sentence of a Chinaman, who had been confined in the Nevada State Prison for a number of years, expired. When his freedom was granted him he was loth to forsake the guardianship of the State. He remarked that he would prefer to stay, in fact, he even proposed to serve out the unexpired term of fourteen years, of a white fellow convict. The sacrifice of his liberty in this instance, however, was not tolerated; so he was forced to go. Since his release, the Oriental vagabond has been loafing around this town, vainly seeking an opportunity to commit some degradation that would again consign him to the care of General Batterman. He remarked the other day that if he could not in any other way be sent back to the State Prison he would kill one of his countrymen; and there is no doubt in the minds of some, that the Celestial dog will yet reach the acme of his questionable ambition.

SOME MORE TEMPERANCE.

There was a ladies' temperance meeting held at the Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon, and a society was organized under the name of the "Woman's Temperance Union." The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Judge Leonard, Vice President, Mrs. Governor Kinkead; Treasurer, Mrs. Alfred Helm; Secretary, Miss Laura Tade; Assistant Secretary, Miss Minnie Blackburn. There will be another meeting at the same place this afternoon. All ladies are invited to attend, sign the pledge, and each bring twenty-five cents with her for initiation fees.

FAREWELL PARTY.

There will be a farewell party given at the Capitol Lodging House on the evening of Monday, the 31st instant. The best music that can be procured will be engaged, and dancing is to commence at 9 o'clock, sharp.

PRESENT YOUR BILLS!

Mr. Dolph Shane will close his place of business in this city within a few days, and he desires that all who have any bills against him will present their claims at his saloon between now and next Monday.

THE WARM SPRINGS SOCIAL.

To-night Messrs. Butts & George's farewell party is to be given at the Warm Springs. There will be a good time there. Everybody, excepting improper characters, is invited.

A PIECE OF ASININE EGOTISM.—The Enterprise of yesterday says that J. M. Woodworth, Chief Clerk of the late Assembly, presented the Pacific Coast Pioneers of Virginia, with a piece of lead pencil which he used in the performance of his official duties during the last session of the Legislature. For a piece of government mule cheek and unparalleled egotism that takes the palm. It appears that Woodworth's former decent modesty has been rubbed off by coming into contact with the clean body of law makers who recently graced this city. If we were possessed of Woodworth's egotism, we would donate a stump of a bit cigar that we smoked on last St. Patrick's day, to the Pioneers, but our innate modesty precludes us from seeking notoriety by means of making valuable presentations.

GOING TO KANSAS CITY.—E. B. Barnes, a long time resident here, and former attache of the Mint, leaves for Kansas City, Mo., to-night, where he has received a railroad appointment. Mr. Barnes has many friends in this city, who wish him much prosperity, wherever he may reside.

IN TOWN.—Genl. J. R. Kittrell came down from Virginia last evening, where he has been to assist in the defense of Aude, who was accused of getting away with Nevada Bank funds. The General's classic face will linger with us a few days.

DRESS REHEARSAL.—The "Nick of the Woods" company will have a dress rehearsal at the Opera House this evening. A few professional friends and members of the press will only be admitted.

POLICE COURT.—The case of George Canon, for committing a nuisance by permitting a dead horse belonging to him to remain lying within the city limits, was postponed until to-day.

AN INVOLUNTARY TRAMP.

THE SON OF A NOBLE ENGLISH HOUSE IN CARSON, AND BEGGING FOR A MEAL ON THE STREET.

STRANGE ADVENTURES OF THE SECOND SON OF SIR JOHN S. WRIGHT, BARONET.

Last evening we were accosted on the street by a man wanting something to eat. The man appeared to be about fifty years of age; his hair was strongly sprinkled with white, and he wore a long, shaggy beard which looked as if it had for many a month been unused to the luxury of a tonsorial artist's brush. This individual had been noticed on the street for several days, and attracted some attention by his eccentric conduct. It was not the first time that he approached us with the request for something to eat. His woe-begone appearance and hungry look softened the reportorial heart and a meal was given him. His language was excellent, evidencing that the man must have seen "better days." Curiosity led us to make some inquiries regarding his hailing place and destination. After finishing a repast that would have satisfied the appetites of a half dozen hungry woodchoppers, he related the following scrap of his own history, which he probably would not have given us had he known that it was intended for the columns of a newspaper: "You would not believe it, to look at me, that I belong to a noble family," he remarked, "yet I do. I am the second son of Sir John S. Wright, Baronet, of London. My father is still alive and very wealthy. You think it strange, in view of this fact, that I should beg for a meal on the public streets of Carson; do you not? Well, I will tell you what a chain of unfortunate circumstances have brought me to the level of a common American tramp. When I became of age my father purchased a commission for me in the English army. I had not been in the service long when the Crimean war broke out. My regiment was ordered to that scene of strife and carnage, and was employed in most of the heavy engagements. I returned to England after the close of the war, as a captain. When the Abyssinian war broke out I was a major, and my regiment followed the fortunes of that chieftain who is now known as Lord Napier, of Magdala. During that campaign I became greatly addicted to drink, and the consequences were that I made some unpardonable mistakes, causing my being sent back to England in disgrace and there court-martialed. The influence of my family alone prevented my being cashiered from the army, in which I remained for several years afterwards. But my appetite for strong drink had taken such a frightful hold upon the better part of myself, and I became involved in so many difficulties and social intrigues, that my family concluded it best to rid themselves of me before I publicly disgraced them, so my senior brother induced me to sell my commission. With the proceeds of that sale, and 5,000 pounds additional from my father, I was shipped to Australia, where, upon my arrival, I bought a sheep range. It was not more than six months after I had engaged in my new occupation, when, one morning, a dead man, with a fearful gash across his forehead, was found lying in front of my house. Although I had never seen the man before in my life, I was arrested on suspicion of having done the killing. The circumstantial evidence at the trial, perjured as it was, for reasons that I am at a loss to understand even to-day, convicted me, and I was sentenced to imprisonment, with hard labor, for life. I had been in prison about two years, suffering as only an innocent person can, when one of my sheep herders confessed on his death bed, that he was the murderer of the man for whose killing I was convicted. In the face of this confession I was retained in custody two months after that before given my liberty. My physical and mental health was greatly shaken from the effects of my unjust imprisonment, and as soon as I could dispose of my property, I did so, and took sail for San Francisco. I arrived in that city in February, 1875, with about $20,000, at a time when there was a great excitement in the stock market; and upon the advice of the British Consul, I invested. It was the old song; I did not sell in time, and when I did so it was volens volens, for my broker disposed of my securities without my knowledge or consent. There I was, in a strange city without a penny. My situation was a desperate one. I left the city afoot for Santa Clara, where I engaged service as a farm hand, and in this manner I eked out a miserable existence at different points in California, until a week or two since, when I concluded to try my luck in Nevada. I walked all the way from Oakland to Virginia, but at that point I could get nothing to do, so I came down here, where I met with no better success. Early to-morrow morning I shall take Walker's line, as you Americans humorously call it, for Bodie." This man seemed to be perfectly honest in his recital of the vicissitudes of his life, and every thing that he stated appeared to have the impress of truth about it. He concluded his narrative by stating that he had never written home since his incarceration for murder, and that his people very likely believe him to be dead. With a look of desperate determination he said, "I would rather die of starvation in the gutters of your streets than appeal to my own flesh and blood for aid." Before this reaches the readers of the MORNING APPEAL to-day, our hero will be on his way, "hooding" it to Bodie.

STATE HOME FOR THE AGED AND INFIRM.

The late Legislature passed an appropriation of $50,000, for a State Home for the aged and infirm, and the bill appropriating that amount for that purpose was signed by the Governor. The Controller now declines to issue his warrant for the money, claiming that the bill is unconstitutional, and he bases his refusal upon certain explicit provisions of the constitution, which are to be found in Article XIII, relating to public institutions, and reads as follows:

SEC. 1. Institutions for the benefit of the insane, blind and deaf and dumb, and such other benevolent institutions as the public good may require, shall be fostered and supported by the State, subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 2. A State Prison shall be established and maintained in such manner as may be prescribed by law, and provisions may be made by law for the establishment and maintenance of a House of Refuge for juvenile offenders.

SEC. 3. The respective counties of the State shall provide, as may be prescribed by law, for their inhabitants who, by reason of age or infirmity, or misfortune, may have claims upon the sympathy and aid of society.

The Controller reasons that the 3d section of Article XIII vitiates the provisions made in the first section, and upon those grounds he bases his refusal. In order to make a test of the case, Governor Kinkead and Secretary of State Babcock yesterday hired a buggy to examine some property located in Washoe county, spoken of as desirable for the purposes named above. The bill for the hire of that conveyance will be approved by the Board of Examiners, but as the money for the payment of that bill must come out of the appropriation for the "State Home for the Aged and Infirm," the Controller will not issue a warrant for it, and by that means the matter will be brought to the attention of the Supreme Court, where the constitutionality of the appropriation will be tested.

GOOD TEMPLARS' ELECTION OF OFFICERS AT EMPIRE.—On Thursday a number of Carsonites went to Empire to organize a Good Templars' lodge, and were very successful. The lodge opened with thirty members, of which fifteen were ladies. The visitors were well entertained, and had a general good time. The lodge will be known as Empire Lodge, No. 1. The following officers were elected: P. W. C. T. Sister M. Webster; W. C. T., Bro. G. Ubbly; R. H. S., Sister O'Neill; L. H. S., Sister Wagner; W. V. T., Sister Bovard; W. C., Sister Cook; W. S., H. Larouette; W. A. S., Sister M. J. White; W. F. S., C. Larouette; W. T., Bro. Wilkins; W. M., Sister Belle Laws; W. D. M., P. Gavin; W. I. G., Bro. Bovard; W. O. G., Bro. Paschall.

ARRESTED.—Isaac McConnell and R. F. Pixley, against whom an indictment for embezzlement was reported by the Grand Jury, were arrested at Virginia on Thursday night by Sheriff Hill, and were immediately released on bail in the sum of $4,000. Bondsman for Pixley were Frank Osbiston and W. H. Smith, and for McConnell, Grant Israel and R. E. Lewis.

SUSPENSION OF MINT EMPLOYEES.—On Monday next forty-eight employees of the Carson Mint, sixteen ladies and thirty-two men, will be suspended from duty until further orders. There is no doubt, however, that they will be reinstated on the first of July if the appropriation passes and arrangements can be perfected to keep the Mint supplied with silver.

DEPARTURES.—The following passengers went south on the stage yesterday morning: Mrs. E. J. Crews and mother, Mrs. D. B. and son, Al. Randall, H. Woodruff, M. P. Booth, A. L. Colby, C. F. Kirchner, C. F. Littrell, Mrs. A. C. Currier and 2 children, John Duffy, Anton Weinans, Mrs. Conkling, A. Waters.

FATHER MATHEW LECTURE.—To-night Dr. D. Banks McKenzie will lecture upon the "Life and Labors of Father Mathew," at Moore & Parker's Hall. The subject is a highly interesting one. Give the Doctor a rousing house.

HOME AGAIN.—Mr. H. M. Yerington returned from San Francisco yesterday morning, and we are pleased to note that he has fully recovered from his recent indisposition.

NEW GOODS.—James F. Farrell, of the Telegraph Cigar Store, has just received a new invoice of the best imported and domestic smokers' goods that the market affords.

TO JURORS.—Jurors who attended and qualified at the March term of the District Court, will find their warrants ready at Recorder Turner's office.

THEATRICAL.—On the 21st proximo the California theater troupe with a star, will again visit us, and they are welcome.

PERSONAL.—Col. Will H. Gunn, author of the "Color Guard," arrived in town yesterday and is stopping at the Ormsby House.

ARRIVALS.—The following passengers arrived on the stage from the south yesterday: W. S. Searing, T. Hardwick.

TROUT.—Some fine specimens of trout are being taken from the Carson river by means of the legalized hook.

DISTRICT COURT.—This Court will be in session at 10 o'clock this morning.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE

EFFECTED BY CALIFORNIA ELASTIC TRUSS!

CALIFORNIA ELASTIC TRUSS COMPANY.—W. J. HORNE, Proprietor.—Dear Sir: I feel that I owe it to you and to humanity to state the fact that I have been SUBSTANTIALLY CURED of a bad case of Rupture of thirty years' standing, by one of your incomparable Trusses, which I purchased from you three months ago. I cannot describe the suffering, both physically and mentally, that I have undergone during that period; and now I feel like a new being. I have worn all kinds of Trusses, both Steel and Elastic, and never received any permanent relief until I tried yours. Its simplicity of construction, and facility with which it can be adjusted, and the ease and perfect freedom to the motions of the body with which it can be worn without causing any irritation, are its chief merits, and it is a perfect supporter. I have not had any sign of a return of the rupture since the first day I put it on, and feel that I am perfectly CURED. It is invaluable, and the fact should be known to the world. You can refer any one to me on the subject of their merits. I am, truly yours, ALFRED J. BURKE, Chief Mail Clerk S. F. Daily Evening Post, San Francisco, July 20, 1878.

A Physician's 45 Years' Experience.

COLUMBIA, Tennessee Co., July 16, 1878. W. J. Horne, Esq.—Dear Sir: For some time past have used in my practice the California Elastic Truss, with entire satisfaction in most cases of complicated hernia of both sexes. During a practice of forty-five years I have found no truss that would, with the same ease and certainty, retain the required adjustment, the pressure being always under the immediate control of the patient. The simplicity and ease of application is of itself a guarantee to every experienced physician. I have the honor to reply by mail the amount due, knowing that I contribute to the alleviation of afflicted humanity. Yours, truly, J. P. TIBBITS, M. D.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue and Price List giving Full Information and Rules for Measuring.

N. B.—The California Elastic Truss is not for sale by any Druggist in Carson City. They prefer to sell Eastern truss, on which they can make a large profit. Send direct to the CALIFORNIA ELASTIC TRUSS COMPANY myl215 720 Market street San Francisco
